A black and white photograph of a large, ornate sign for the University of Dubuque. The sign is mounted on two dark metal poles with decorative finials. It features two horizontal panels. The top panel has the word "UNIVERSITY" in a bold, sans-serif font. The bottom panel has the word "of" in a script font followed by "DUBUQUE" in a bold, sans-serif font. The sign is positioned in front of a brick building with two windows. Vines are climbing the building's facade. The ground in the foreground is covered with fallen leaves.

UNIVERSITY

of DUBUQUE

Dedication

Professor Peterson joined the U of D faculty in 1914. In that year McCormick Gymnasium had just been built. Prof Peterson has since made this structure a second home. Here Coach Peterson has inspired a number of athletes. Yet more important, 'Pete' as he is generally known (in earlier days he was called 'Whitey') - has helped many college students discover the importance and enjoyment of physical fitness; especially in 'Co-Rec' folk and square dancing class, he has emphasized fun in exercise. He has also helped mold several excellent teachers of physical education. And every student experiences Prof Peterson's required course in personal health: practical knowledge about healthful living of which 'Pete' is the best of example - even now he is a challenge to anyone in the fast sports of badminton and tennis. Thus, the 1961 KEY is dedicated to one exemplifying some of the fundamental qualities of study and fellowship upon which this expanding institution is based: Professor C. T. Peterson.

In Memoriam

Dr. William B. Zuker, 1887 - 1960

The title "Mr. University of Dubuque" indicates the scope of service Dr. William B. Zuker gave to the school for nearly forty years.

Since 1921 Dr. Zuker had been associated with the college as chemistry professor. For the same length of time, he had sponsored the Thirteener Fraternity. He had served as vice-president of the university from 1929 until the time of his death. Twice he had been appointed acting president; during 1927-29 and during 1935-36.

Dr. Zuker was active in civic affairs, too. He served as a member of the boards of directors of Finley Hospital, the YMCA, and Carnegie-Stout Library as well as of the University of Dubuque. He headed the Northeast Area of the Boy Scouts of America for nine years. He was also an active member of St. Luke's Methodist Church.

In scientific circles, Dr. Zuker was well known. He held a Bachelor of Science degree from Des Moines University and a Master of Science from the University of Chicago. He was also privileged to study under Madame Curie. In 1934 the University of Dubuque granted him a Doctor of Science. Dr. Zuker was honored several times by Who's Who in Science.

His most recent honor was bestowed in the spring of 1960 when he became one of five who hold the title of professor emeritus of the University.

During the dedication of Goldthorp Science Hall, the University held a special "Dr. Zuker Night": the science building was a dream come true. Several gifts to the department of science including the main auditorium and the reading room honored him.

Perhaps Dr. Zuker will be remembered best, however, because he always remembered the students; he was interested in individuals and his greatest joy was teaching.

Dr. William B. Zuker was truly a gentleman and a scholar.

In Memoriam

Dr. David I. Berger 1887⁹⁴ - 1960

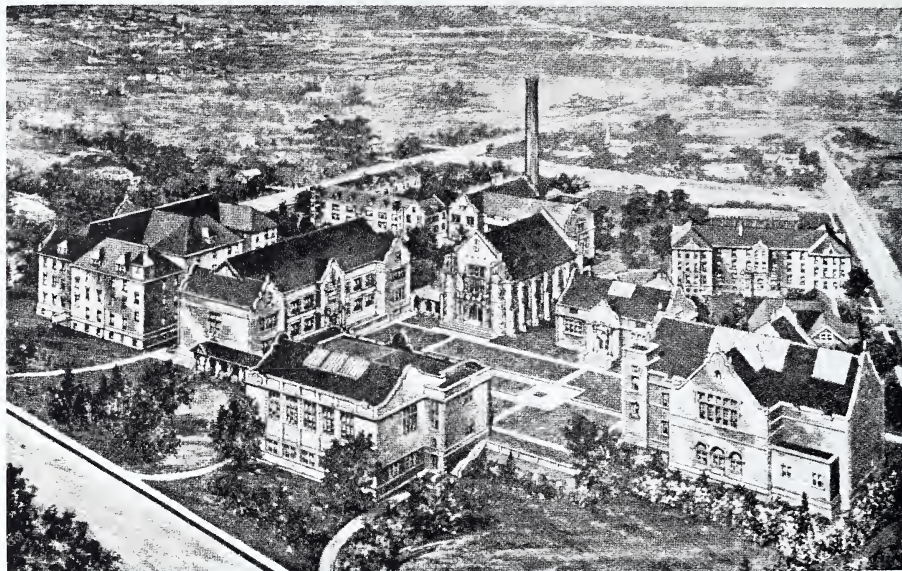

Dr. David I. Berger left an inspiring imprint on countless lives of those who had the enriching experience of being associated with him. He had always given himself completely to the work of his Master.

Dr. Berger came to the University in 1914 as an immigrant student from Austria. He was ordained the same year he became a U.S. citizen, 1919. Two years later he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree. That year, 1921, he began to teach Bible in the University while serving as pastor of Third Presbyterian Church. He later became full-time professor of Bible and Religious Education. In 1929 Dr. Berger was appointed Dean of the Seminary. He served in this capacity for five years and with all his other duties managed to earn a Master of Religious Education from Auburn Seminary. He was later granted a Doctor of Theology from Dubuque, and in 1953 his Alma Mater bestowed upon him an honorary doctorate degree.

After a period of time beginning in 1933 in which he served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Muscatine, Iowa, and as professor at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Dr. Berger returned to the University of Dubuque faculty in 1946. During the next five years his eyesight began to fail and by 1952 he had completely lost his sight. Though blind, he served most capably as professor of Homiletics until his retirement on February 1, 1960.

While serving the university for nearly thirty years, Dr. Berger had been instrumental in organizing many Christian service groups and the Thursday School for Ministers. A scholarship given by the Student Christian Association has long honored him for his work in this area.

Dr. David I. Berger's words of wit, wisdom, and witness to his Lord will long live in the hearts and minds of those who had come to know and love this committed Christian.

The University of Dubuque

The University of Dubuque as conceived in 1919 included a library, new dormitories, a new chapel, new seminary buildings, and a new administration building. Existing structures were Steffens and Severance Halls, Peters Commons, and McCormick Gymnasium. All these new buildings were to surround the quadrangle behind Steffens Hall.

Steffens Hall was the first building on the present campus. When it was completed in 1907, partly financed by a contribution from Andrew Carnegie, it comprised the whole school, including an academy as well as a college and seminary. Steffens Hall replaced the Seventeenth Street Building in downtown Dubuque which had been the home of Dubuque College and Seminary since 1872. Previously, the school had been housed in the Blue Presbyterian Church of Dubuque. The first classes were held in the home of Adrian Van Vliet in 1852.

The present campus steadily grew during the first two decades of the Twentieth Century. The Chapel was built in 1908 as a gift of Frank H. Peters. In 1911, the central heating plant was added to the school facilities and Severance Hall was begun; Severance Hall was not originally planned as a dormitory for women since the first woman was admitted only that year, 1911. Peters Commons was completed in 1914 and McCormick Gymnasium was begun the same year. In 1916, the same year the first woman graduated from the College of Liberal Arts, the athletic field was begun and additional land and houses were bought. At the end of the second decade of the century, the present name, University of Dubuque, was adopted, and the college was accredited by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The plans made at the end of this period of expansion were obviously not fulfilled. Van Vliet Hall, finished in 1925, was the only structure built for some time. As at other schools, the national depression and war years were reflected at the U of D.

During the Centennial Year, 1952, Chalmers Field was completed. Since then there has been an increasing impetus toward construction and progress. In 1955, the Seminary Library was dedicated, and the next year the new seminary dormitory, Smith Hall, was built. Goldthorp Science Hall is the most recent addition to the campus. It was dedicated in the spring of 1960.

The Planning and Development Council of the University of Dubuque, initiated in the fall of 1960, is studying plans for expansion. A dormitory for women is planned for the present campus. Further construction is under consideration and may take place on the school property near Chalmers Field.

The University of Dubuque has served the whole Church and the world for more than one hundred years. It has withstood four wars and other disasters which have threatened to engulf both the school and the principles for which it stands. The University of Dubuque has not only survived, it now faces a future of greater contribution through development and expansion.

Steffens Hall

Students check Steffens Hall bulletin board.

STEFFENS HALL, the first building on the present campus, has served the changing needs of the school. Once the complete physical plant, it now houses the President's Office as well as those of the Vice-President, College Deans, and most of the college faculty.

The University Business and Public Relations offices and the College Admissions and Registrar's offices are also located here.

Much remodeling was done in Steffens during 1960 and 1961. A Christian Education Laboratory was a major addition. Classrooms, offices, and many of the rooms in the dormitory area for 158 men were redecorated. Changes were made in Jacob-Conzett Lounge, too.

Jacob-Conzett Lounge is a pleasant place for students to gather between classes and in the evening. Many coffees are held here during the year also.

Hank Hector leads his history class for the day.

The Library of the College of Liberal Arts is housed in Steffens Hall also. It contains approximately 35,000 volumes.

Loretta Gracias peruses in the stacks.

Another familiar part of Steffens is the Post Office. Always a line.

Another coffee in Jacob-Conzett!

Isn't that professor in yet?

The entrance is flanked by two small lantern-style light fixtures. A set of steps leads up to the entrance. The building is surrounded by trees and a sidewalk in the foreground.

Goldthorp Science Hall

GOLDTHORP SCIENCE HALL, the newest building on campus, is constantly used with enjoyment by students and faculty alike. Completed in the spring of 1960, it was built as a result of a challenge gift given by Mrs. Effie E. Goldthorp in honor of her late husband, Francis J. Goldthorp.

Modern laboratories, classrooms, and office space make the building a highly desirable addition to the University campus. Zuker Memorial Auditorium is a convenient lecture and meeting room.

Zuker Reading Room is being developed and will be completed in the near future.

A gift of the late Nettie Fowler McCormick, McCORMICK GYMNASIUM offers fine athletic facilities. Spectator galleries overlook the swimming pool and playing floor where U of D athletes exhibit prowess gained through use of the gymnasium's modern equipment.

The addition of a new basket room allows for better use of the spacious locker rooms.

Offices for coaches and physical education faculty are also conveniently and pleasantly located in the building.

RUSTON HALL, which is also the home of the Dubuque Academy of Music, houses the studios, practice rooms, and classrooms of the music department.

An extensive record and music library is located here, too.

The building is a gift of the late Dr. William Ruston, former president of the University.

Planning And Development Council

The University Board of Directors assembles twice a year. Its Executive Committee meets each month to examine administrative policies, review the monthly financial report of the University, and study problems arising between the biannual meetings of the Board.

The determined drive of the University toward significant progress began at the 1960 spring meeting of the Board of Directors with the establishment of Planning and Development Commission and a Planning and Development Council to coordinate plans for the expansion and improvement of the University. Dr. Raymond C. Gibson was appointed consultant. Dr. Gibson is a professor of higher education at Indiana University and an internationally-known educational consultant. After recently completing a survey for the State of Iowa on the needs of higher education, he will now serve the University exclusively during its next few years of construction and growth.

President Couchman

Dr. Gaylord M. Couchman has been exemplary in serving as president of the University of Dubuque since 1953.

His background includes graduation from Des Moines University, a Bachelor of Divinity Degree from McCormick Theological Seminary, and a Doctor of Divinity Honorary Degree from the University of Dubuque. Pastorates throughout his native Iowa, including several years at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Dubuque, have ably prepared him for the many duties at the University.

President Couchman is favorably recognized throughout the nation and state, having been elected to important positions in college organizations and in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

At the University of Dubuque, Dr. Couchman's friendly smile invites leisurely chats. His deep concern for individuals prompts counsel with any of the students or faculty.

President Couchman takes time for family life, too. The Couchmans are the parents of three daughters and a son. They have two grandchildren.

Vice-President Williams

The University's new Vice-President in charge of Planning and Development, Reese Williams, received his B.S. and M.A. degrees from Indiana's Ball State Teachers College. At present, Mr. Williams is writing a thesis for his doctorate from Indiana University.

While in Muncie, Indiana, Mr. Williams worked in the savings, loan, and insurance business. He also has held the position of Alumni Secretary at Ball State Teachers College.

Our Vice-President is especially qualified in the field of development and promotion, because he has worked in the professional fund raising field in Chicago and New York. He was also Director of Financial Aids at Indiana University before he joined the University of Dubuque administration in September 1960.

The Williams have a son and a daughter.

Business Manager

Mr. Harry A. Turner was appointed to the position of Business Manager of the University in 1953, after previously serving in the Admissions Department. The Rev. Mr. Turner was graduated with honors from Park College and McCormick Theological Seminary. He was pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Downers Grove, Illinois, before coming to Dubuque in 1945.

He is now completing work toward a Ph.D. in Mass Communications Research at the University of Wisconsin.

The Public Relations Director emphasizes two-way communication through such projects as a speaker's bureau, alumni bulletin, and news releases. Thus, he attempts to interpret for the public a true image of the institution. He also tries to evaluate the pulse of the public for possible policy-making at a higher administrative level.

At Mrs. Cassat's . . .

Rose Garden Is Tea Setting

Mrs. David B. Cassat of 890 Mount Carmel is to be found every day working in her rose garden. Last week, when the 160 bushes were at their June peak, she entertained at a tea so that her friends might enjoy the hundreds of blossoms. (Telegraph-Herald Photo).

Mrs. David B. Cassat's rose garden at 890 Mount Carmel was the inspiration last week for one of the season's most beautiful teas.

The 160 bushes are placed in four curving beds near the front door of the remodeled 93-year old white farm house, with cedar hedges as a backdrop for their brilliance.

In the height of their June blooming, Mrs. Cassat decided the easiest way to share the beauty with her friends was to invite them, en masse, to enjoy the display.

There were roses in the hands of some old silver epergne on the tea table in the dining room; there were roses on the wide porch overlooking the sloping lawn and luxuriant old trees at the back of the house, but many of the 182 guests preferred to have their tea at the tables near the rose garden.

Formerly the beds were filled with perennials. About seven years ago Mrs. Cassat transplanted them on another lawn and began her intensive cultivation of roses.

She spends about two hours every day spraying and snipping old blossoms and leaves. "No rose is beautiful on a blighted bush," she says.

Once each week the beds are cultivated.

Aside from the enjoyment she finds in raising the flowers, there is the satisfaction of giving the cut blooms to friends who are ill and shut-in. Hundreds of roses are taken from the garden every month from spring until Thanksgiving.

The supreme test of her thorough care came last winter when not a single bush was lost in the severe cold.

Each bush is covered with a carton about half full of dirt, come late fall, and a two foot "frosting" of leaves placed on top.

Mrs. Cassat says her husband insists that the effect is a bit tombstone-ish.

"And it IS a lot of work," she admits, "but I like to do it, and I think it's worth it."

Certainly that was the verdict of her guests last week, who came to "meet" the roses.

Miss Ann Fahey, Donald LaJone Marry Saturday

St. Raphael's Cathedral was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Miss Ann Marie Fahey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fahey of 451 W. Fifth, and Donald Paul LaJone of Chicago.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Joseph LaJone of Chicago and the late Mr. LaJone.

The Rev. Robert Cizek officiated at the 11 a. m. ceremony with Jack Rhomberg as vocalist.

Miss Fahey, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of hand embroidered organdy with a tiered bouffant skirt.

Her three tiered veil fell from an organdy crown and she carried a single red rose.

Miss Mary Ellen Fahey was her sister's maid of honor; Mrs. Audrey Noel of 1060 Clara and Miss Andrea Riccio of Chicago, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids.

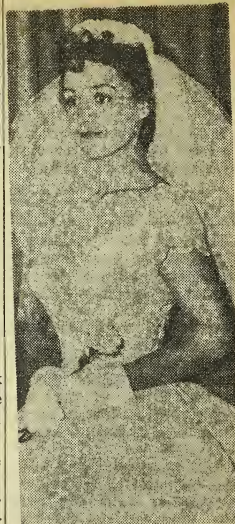

The attendants were gowned alike in ice blue embroidered sheaths with full net overskirts.

Matching veiled headbands of petals and bouquets of blue daisies with white carnations completed the ensembles.

Daniel Pellettiere of Chicago served as best man; William Rodi of LaGrange Park, Ill., and Paul Hoffman of Des Moines were groomsmen.

Dinner at Leiser's Gardens was followed by a reception at the American Legion Hall.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and has been employed by the Chicago Dubuque Motor Transportation Co.

Mrs. Donald LaJone

Her husband, a 1959 graduate of Loras College, is employed by the International Harvester Co. of Chicago.

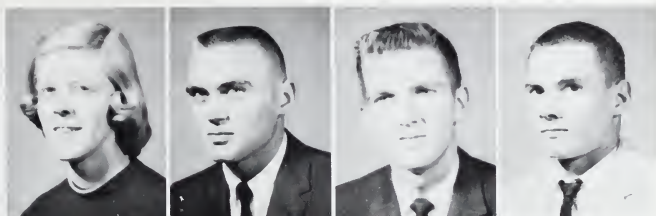

After a wedding trip to a northern lake resort, Mr. and Mrs. LaJone will make their home in Chicago.

Student Senate, as a representative governing body of the liberal arts college, coordinates student activities and is the officially recognized voice of the students. It is composed of three representatives elected from each class and a president and vice-president elected at large.

Student Senate annually coordinates freshman orientation week activities, Homecoming, and May Fete weekend. Working through committees on Campus Policy, Social Standards, and Academic Evaluation, it acted on integration and disarmament policies, investigated final examination procedure, and discussed reorganization. A University calendar and new student lounge were additional services to the student body.

Students are given a chance to be tried by their peers in this committee. Composed of two members elected from each class, two hold-over members, and a chairman, it is responsible for trying students who have violated campus regulations.

Monthly meetings are held for the first three months of school; a regular meeting is also held during the last month of school for the purpose of orienting new members.

A mock trial was held in November to prepare members to deal more effectively with any cases that might arise during the year.

Serving the U of D by the presentation of choral music are the Adrian Singers. This famed male group known throughout the Tri-State Area toured Iowa and Illinois from January 20 to 29. The name is in memory of the founder of the University, Adrian Van Vliet, and each Adrian Singer is a vital representative of the school.

In addition to the annual tour, the Adrians appeared for several churches, service organizations, and businesses in the Dubuque area. They also sang for Faith and Life Week and presented the Sixth Annual Home Concert on February 12.

The director, John Neve, has received his B.A. from the University and is now working for his Bachelor of Music degree. This is his first year as director of the Adrian Singers.

Chapel Choir

The school was well aware of the fine work of the Chapel Choir during the year 1960 to 1961. They have admirably continued a fine tradition.

"Praise and adoration in song" is the motto of the Chapel Choir. Their purpose is to lead congregational singing, to assist the pastor in worship, and to sing to the glory of God.

Under the direction of Dr. Rosemary Clarke, the Chapel Choir has presented musical programs in the Dubuque area in addition to assistance in the weekly chapel services held in Westminster Presbyterian Church.

After practice some members enjoy singing together - just for the fun of it.

Second semester of 1960-1961, the Student Christian Association and United Campus Christian Fellowship merged into the USCA. The union strengthened the organization of Christian service on campus.

The Carnival, annually held by the SCA, highlights USCA activities. Most campus organizations participate in the festival.

Weekly meetings on Sunday evening provide opportunity for Christian fellowship, worship, and study. Worship is also made available through Wednesday vesper services. Gospel Teams visit homes of the aged regularly.

USCA co-operates with various local, state, and national groups to send students to conferences in the summer as well as on weekends during the school year.

Enrichment of the life of each member through study, fellowship, and service is the purpose of the Pre-Theological Society. Also, information is given concerning seminary and post-seminary life.

This year, the Pre-Theological Society sponsored a weekly meeting for a Bible study entitled, "The Life and Teachings of Jesus". These meetings were led in an extensive search of the scriptures by the advisor, Dr. Short. This subject was discussed creatively and interestingly both by the members of the society and by their invited guests, who represented varied religious faiths and vocational interests.

The members of the Pre-Theological Society also sponsored monthly services at Mount Pleasant Home for the Aged.

The twenty members of the Thursday night discussion group gather in the living room of Dr. Short's home.

The goal of USIC is to further international friendship and understanding on the University campus.

Several coffee hours during the fall acquainted foreign students with campus life and the group's faculty advisers. In April, they opened the doors of their International Cafe for an evening of interesting entertainment from neighboring countries. During February, delegates attended the Iowa International Convention in Des Moines.

The group also sponsored a series of lectures and motion pictures on the life and culture of India. This series, which was opened to the public, was presented under the leadership of Anand Prasad.

Key

A yearbook staff of quality as well as quantity combined their efforts to produce the 1961 KEY. It is designed to communicate the unique characteristics of the U of D for prospective students, to interpret campus life for those interested in Dubuque, and to provide a memorable picture of the college year for present students.

Although members worked any time (especially before deadlines), there were a few "extra" activities. Several fall conferences in the area culminated in the Associated Collegiate Press Conference held at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago. Between semesters the staff nominated candidates for Key Queen, elected by the student body for competition in the contest for Drake Relays Queen in Des Moines. The annual KEY Banquet in the spring formally recognized individual contribution and completed 1961 KEY staff activities.

Gamma Phi Delta

"Looks good," say three "Rushees" to Mrs. Schueller.

Our version of Sinatra and Crosby.

One roast peacock ... coming up!

Halloween?... No, initiation Gamma style.

"Rain, rain, go away!" could have been the thought of officers Donna Jones, Judy Luke, Pat Frederick, Kendra Daniel, Joyce Nicol, Marilyn Diehl, Carole Miller, Lavon Waugh, Carol Wever, and their Gamma sisters at their first meeting of the year, as they enjoyed an INDOOR picnic.

"La Fiesta" provided square dancing and gave the UD a "High Society" all its own, including crooners such as "Bing Crosby" and "Frank Sinatra" with champagne galore. Lydia Guerrero gave all girls a pantomimed warning of the "perils" of dancing, so beware—whether wall-flower, popular, or just plain Sal.

Pizza and barbecue, goblins and Halloween—a good combination for the Gammas and the key to success at their "Pizza and Barbecue" Supper in late October.

Join the Army---See Paree! And you did see it, if you attended the "Perfect Furlough," which the Gammas sponsored at Campus Lane Theatre.

And so it went: closed parties, rush parties, food sales, May Fete Booth, Homecoming Mum sale, until Flunk Week-end closed out another year of fun (and studying to keep the Zeta Scholarship Cup won the previous year.)

"Fingers were made before forks, so let me at it."

The "Deep Purple" dance started off a round of activities for Delta leaders Jeanne Morris, Loretta Grattias, Sally Benedict, Marilyn Nelson, Betty Kincher, Sara Mathes, Barb Snow, and Anita Fischer. The usual rush activities and Heck Week, closed parties, Flunk Weekend, and food sales accounted for many hours of Delta effort.

Dogpatch has nothing on the Deltas, whose Sadie Hawkins' Day activities found University students dressed in---well, dressed! Costume competition was keen, with the presence of Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae adding to the scene (Anyone seen Moonbeam McSwine?), and those usually carefully hidden freckles came to the fore, to be joined by several hand-made spots as well.

"Going---going---gone!" And another Delta "slave" was sold at auction, to be busied with anything from ironing to window washing, perhaps secretly glad that Delta Slave Day takes place only once a year.

Storybook characters on the Dubuque campus?

Officers Marge Stephenson, Pat Edelen, Mary Couchman, Marge Ruch, and Sue Osten began a busy year-long round of activities with some careful planning that produced favorable results.

What's "E. D." Name of a town, you say? No, it's the "Elephant-Donkey Ball," sponsored by the Zetas and pointing up the national scene preparation for the presidential election. "Nixon," "Kennedy," and a parade review in miniature highlighted the evening entertainment.

"Ouch, my aching arm! I'll NEVER wash another window." Work Day for the Zetas was just that--one of work (and aching muscles the next day), but it proved financially well worth the time and effort spent.

Tired of keeping up with the latest happenings, and to prepare a proper mood for Thanksgiving vacation, the Zetas held an "Out-of-it" dance. (And I'm sure that few participants would have topped any "Best Dressed" lists.)

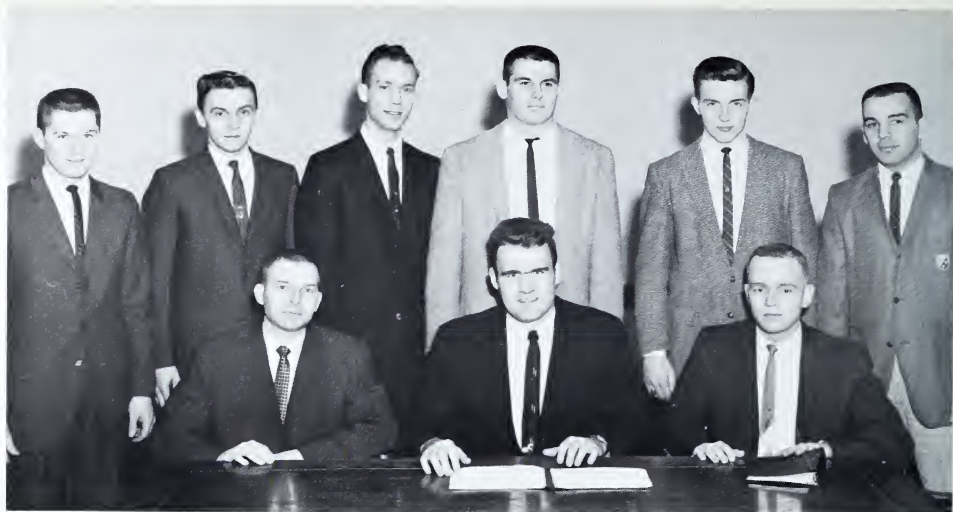

"Umm, they look good." "Any brownies left?" The Zetas at Final Exam time found many a hungry student ready to take a needed break (and pamper his stomach, as well).

Inter-fraternity Council

Panhellenic-Inter-Fraternity Council discuss plans for the Presentation Ball.

Consisting of representatives from each of the four fraternities on the University campus, the Inter-fraternity Council works to assist in setting up the policies governing fraternities and pledging activities for the year.

Working with the PanHellenic Council, it plans and carries out the Presentation Ball, at which the new pledges are presented and recognized.

Another main activity which the Inter-Fraternity council has charge of is the supervision and conducting of an inter-fraternity sports tournament, for which they award the series winner an "Inter-Fraternity Sports Trophy."

The purpose of PanHellenic Council is to govern the three local sororities and to promote better relationships between all women on the U. D. campus.

Composed of the presidents, vice-presidents, and a representative from each sorority, it sponsors an annual fall tea, a game night in the gym for all sorority women, and rules over rush teas and parties. It also published a booklet to acquaint non-sorority women with sororities, activities, and purposes, as well as helping the Inter-fraternity council with the Presentation Ball.

All right peons, sing out loud!

"Anything we get a notion to do will be done -- quickly, and with much fun!" said John Elliott, Paul Fox, Bob Davis, Dick Perry, Jeff Baker, and the brothers of the Black and Gold. One "notion" for the year was a Teen-hop, not soon to be forgotten by its participants, and sponsored jointly with KDTH, proving community service as well as Elvis Presley and Fabian were still alive in 1961.

Their purpose of striving for true brotherhood through scholastics, leadership, singing, sports, and various fraternity activities is revealed in their high academic standing as a whole, the traditional Flunk Week-end at Delhi, closed parties, a summer reunion, and "Heck Week" (as both actives and pledges have found).

A fire escape ladder at Severance Hall provides the perfect place for -- no, Not fire drills -- but a famous MU SIG serenade! And what could be sweeter than the blended voices of the members as "Good night, fair maiden, good night" echoes their retreating steps for another time?

Winter Wonderland with the Phi O's.

"Hurdle to Victory" is the Phi O's contribution to Homecoming festivities.

The two-fold aim of the fraternity is to create a spirit of sincere brotherly love among its members and to promote a better fellowship among the other students of the University. Helping conduct various activities for that purpose were officers Bruce Sayers, Dennis Harken, Brian Gifford, Stan Gustas, Bruce Wands, Bill Carter, and Dick Fisher.

Their activity calendar, constantly full, listed rush parties, a car wash, closed parties, the annual steak fry, and a card party (at which we hope no one used Jack Benny's kimono with large sleeves).

"Winter Wonderland" was never more enjoyable than the one which the Phi O's sponsored jointly with KUDD this year. Complete with caroling, mistletoe (for decoration only, of course!), and snowmen which didn't melt, this Christmas Dance set the holiday mood for UD students.

Education and sports DO mix -- just ask any member! Proof of this fact is a beautiful traveling trophy, retired last spring into their possession by a victorious third consecutive year in Inter-Fraternity Sports Tournaments. And, knowing Phi O's, they will be in there again trying for the title, and possibly succeeding.

Another first place for the Thirteeners' Homecoming float. . . Peacock and Spartan.

"One, two, three--We'll never go home!" So say the Thirteeners after their weekly Wednesday evening meeting. And perhaps they don't, for they keep the campus buzzing through various activities including the election of officers banquet, rush parties, initiation, all-school dance, May Fete, and the Presentation Ball. Top leadership positions have been held by the members in 13 (coincidentally) organizations and groups, as well as officers Hank Hector, Dan Frump, Russell Sherman, Art Weigand, and Harlan Fischer for their own Thirteeners Fraternity.

"I want a green one," could be heard in October as the handy 13er blotters were distributed to the students, while the annual hayride began the year of fun.

Black cats and the No. 13 may be bad luck for some, but the Thirteeners found them no handicap as they took first prize for their homecoming float, and followed with their annual Homecoming Alumni Banquet.

At their car wash, a great success, it's hard to say which was wetter--cars or Thirteeners!! To close the year Flunk Weekend was enjoyed, and plans for the annual summer reunion were completed.

Say it's a little wet in here.

Darrel Rathje displays some of his fine defensive ability as he brings his man down.

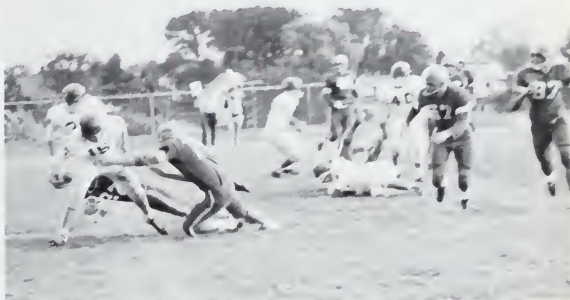

Once more the University of Dubuque football team started the year with a victory. This year the victim was the Central Dutchmen. Highlight of the game, which the Spartans won 14-6, was co-captain Denny Harken's 20 yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass. The Spartan's other touchdown came on a pass from Curtis Casey to Darrel Rathje.

The Simpson Redmen were next on the Spartan agenda. The visitors from Indianola went home on the short end of a 27-0 score. Bill Carter emerged in this game as Dubuque's chief scoring threat when he scored two touchdowns. Russ Waggoner caught a pass from Curtis Casey for another TD, and Maury Waugh plunged for the last Spartan marker.

Dubuque's old nemesis, the injury bug, hit hard in this game as the team lost the services of their best defensive back, Harlan Fischer, for the rest of the year.

A long caravan of cars followed the team to Decorah to test the tough Luther Norsemen. In a bitterly fought game, the Spartans emerged on the bottom of a 14-0 score.

The Spartan gridders next journeyed to Parsons to play the Kelly Green in their homecoming game. Once again, Casey unleashed a TD pass, this time to Chuck Jurgens. Bill Carter romped for another TD, but it wasn't quite enough as Parsons parlayed a 74 yard last quarter TD pass for a 20-14 win.

Rathje once again leads the Spartan defensive charge.

The University's Homecoming was next, and the Spartans had high hopes for a victory. Bill Carter ran 68 yards on the fourth play of the game to give Dubuque an early lead. Carter captured another score and Scott Berry broke into the scoring column for the first time, but Upper Iowa broke loose for three big TD's in the third quarter and emerged with a 27-19 win.

The Spartans got back on the winning road with a 26-14 victory over Buena Vista. Three touchdowns by Scott Berry and a fourth by Bill Carter put the game far beyond the reach of the Beavers.

By this late date in the season, the Spartan's small squad was severely hampered by injuries. The team was able to regroup, however, to lead the every potent Wartburg Knights 14-0 at half-time of the University's last home game of the 1960 season. Carter scored first on a short plunge and Juergens and Casey hooked up for a 46 yard pay-off pass play. In the second half, the out-manned Spartans tired quickly and were beaten 21-14.

Iowa Wesleyan was the last contestant on the Spartan schedule. Short plunges by Casey and Waugh set the Spartan's first two touchdowns. A lineman's dream came true for guard Russ Spearman when he picked off a fumble and went for the clinching touchdown in the 20-7 Spartan victory.

The Spartans' four losses drew a total of five negative touchdowns. Never was Dubuque completely outclassed or out-fought.

The entire Spartan backfield plans to return next year as well as six of the seven starting linemen. The outlook is bright for Dubuque in the 1961 season.

Dick Yapp broke the season's scoring mark for Dubuque when he dropped in 26 counters against Luther.

FIRST ROW: Bruce Stumbaugh, Paul Epperly, Scott Berry, Darrel Rathje, Kerwin Strasser; SECOND ROW: Dick Yapp, Dennis Harken, Dan Lock, Bob VanderBerg, Brian Gifford, Tom Epperly.

Harken and Rathje try to double team a Normal player.

Dubuque started the 1960 Basketball season with games at Illinois Wesleyan and Illinois Normal. The hard fighting Spartans encountered their first defeats in these games.

Smarting from their first defeats, the Spartans ran next into the Iowa Wesleyan club who became their first victim.

Parsons and Upper Iowa were next for the Spartan cagers, and both exploited a weak Spartan defense for 102 points.

Highscoring Don Hein led the Wartburg Knights to a 90-87 victory over Dubuque. This was one of the most exciting games played by the Spartans as they fought the defending conference champions down to the wire.

The Buena Vista Beavers invaded McCormick gym planning to perpetuate their hex on the Spartans. This time they were surprised as Stumbaugh and Rathje rallied the Spartans for a 90-71 victory.

Fans decided the Spartans had finally found a winning combination and built high hopes as the team journeyed to southern Iowa to meet Simpson and Central. The Spartans went down to defeat again.

Dubuque dominated Parsons, the eventual conference champions, in their next game. It was the finest game of the season.

Harken grabs a rebound away from three Iowa Wesleyan Tigers.

Dan Lock drives for the bucket against Illinois Normal.

The University of Chicago, boasting a fine team, easily defeated the Spartans 79-51.

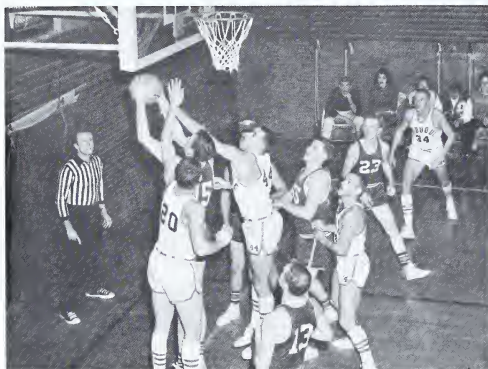

The Spartans met Illinois Normal in a return engagement and fought them on even terms until the closing seconds when Normal broke away for a victory.

St. Ambrose invaded the Spartan home as a solid favorite. But the Spartans parlayed hot shooting into an exciting win.

Arch rival Luther was the next to defeat Dubuque in a game which Dubuque couldn't find the basket.

At Iowa Wesleyan, Bob VanderBerg poured 32 points through the hoop while Dick Yapp added 29 for a victory.

Loosing two road games to Upper Iowa and Buena Vista, the Spartans nipped their next victim, Simpson, 75-72. A defeat at Luther despite some broken school records brought Dubuque to the close of the season at Wartburg. Seniors Denny Harken, Dan Lock, and Kerwin Strasser fought to avert the final loss of the season.

Rathje and Lock try to block Buena Vista's Ahrens' shot.

Lock takes a rebound from two Central Dutchmen.

Denny Harken puts in a reverse lay-up against Buena Vista.

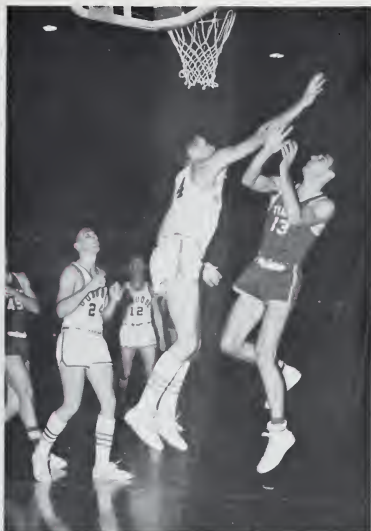

Bruce Stumbaugh scores against Upper Iowa as Rathje gets set for a possible rebound.

Brian Gifford goes high into the air to snare a rebound.

If the season is evaluated according to victories, the Spartans did not fare well. But all the starters showed flashes of brilliance and achieved a feat no other conference team could boast of: five different men who led the scoring on different occasions.

Dan Lock bats away an Iowa Wesleyan shot as Har-ken and Epperly watch.

Bob VanderBerg lays in two points against Upper Iowa as Rathje gets set to rebound.

Junior Varsity

Bruce Meriwether, three year Spar-tan Captain, made his coaching debut when he led his hustling bunch of J.V.'s through a successful season.

The future Spartans displayed poise, hustle, and determination throughout the season. Competition was fur-nished by other college J.V. teams and local industrial teams. John Kapinski finished as leading scorer, followed closely by Bob Matthiessen.

The University of Dubuque's first soccer team ended its initial season undefeated.

The original campaign for soccer was led by a group of spirited foreign students. The team played a limited schedule, but in each game a tremendous amount of hustle and determination was evident.

Bill Day was the team's goalie, and his sure plays saved the Spartans from defeat time after time. It is hoped that the Spartans' fine showing this year will pave the way for future soccer teams at the University.

Baseball

Baseball returned to the University of Dubuque campus in 1961.

A full schedule of games was played by the Spartan ball club. Coach Odenkirk's team went into the campaign equipped with a new field and completely new equipment.

The emergence of the baseball team made the University a full-fledged member of the Conference. The school now fields a team in each sport in which the conference offers competition.

Wrestlers who carried the burden of the load for the Spartans at the end of the year and in the conference meet were: FIRST ROW: Larrie Sagers, Dick Stevens, Jim Harris, Digbie Willard, Dave Sage; SECOND ROW: Bruce Sayers, Tom Turner, Jim Fox, Dennis Weise, LeRoy Bufton.

The Spartan matmen opened the season with an impressive second place at the Knox Invitational meet, finishing behind Cornell in a field of eleven teams. Jim Fox and Bruce Sayers took individual championships.

In a Quadrangular meet with Upper Iowa, Coe, and Monmouth, Dubuque again finished a strong second.

In their first dual meet, the Spartan grapplers wrestled last year's conference co-champion Upper Iowa to a 16-16 tie. Dubuque was severely handicapped when they had to use two inexperienced wrestlers who were pinned by more experienced opponents.

Dave Sage escapes from his opponent and looks for a possible hold.

Harris adds valuable riding time to his total as he wears his opponent down.

Dubuque finished very strong in their meet with Simpson when the last three Spartans won with pins.

The Wartburg Knights ended Dubuque's undefeated dual meet string at thirteen when they barely nipped the Spartans. Hildebrand of Wartburg, defending conference champion, beat Jim Fox when he scored a reverse with time running out in the final period. Bruce Sayers pinned his man in the second period to remain Dubuque's only undefeated wrestler.

Jim Harris escapes from his opponent to add more points to his total score.

Denny Weise eyes his Luther opponent for a possible opening.

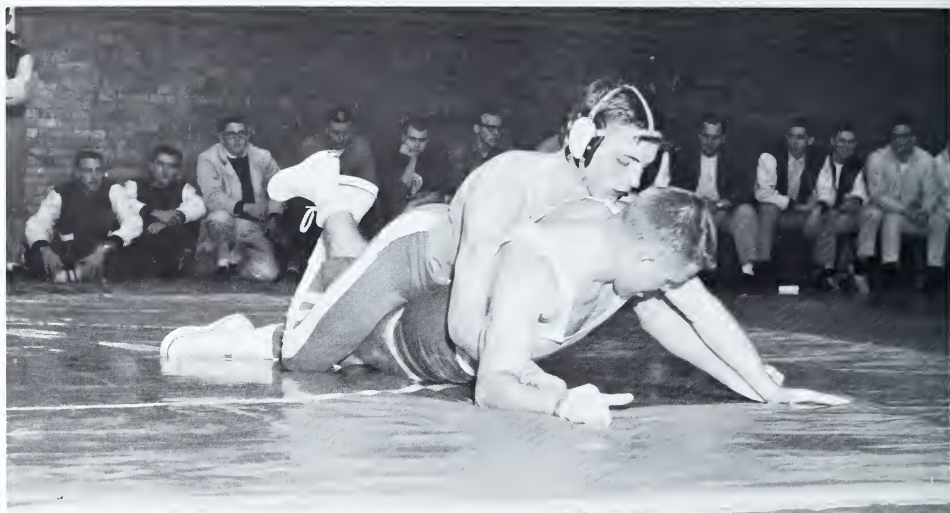

In their most impressive team effort of the year, the Spartan matmen dealt Luther their first dual meet loss of the year. Captain Denny Weise scored the only pin of the match. After undefeated Bruce Sayers had opened the match with a 2-0 decision, newcomer Spartan Dick Stevens gave his conference champion opponent a hard tussle before losing the decision. Jim Fox ran into a strong and determined opponent who defeated him only after a hard struggle, and Leroy Bufton drew with the man who was picked to be heavy-weight conference champion.

Jim Fox tries to make short work of his opponent.

Larrie Sagers tries to pull his Wartburg opponent over into a pinning position.

Bruce Sayers closely watches his opponent for the slightest movement which will tip off what he is going to do.

Dubuque next edged a vastly improved Parsons squad. Jim Fox regained his old time form to pin his opponent. Bruce Sayers, Larrie Sagers, and Denny Weise scored other Spartan wins.

The grapplers next journeyed to Wheaton, Illinois, for the Wheaton Invitational. They faced competition against much larger schools without their star, straight A student Bruce Sayers, who was taking law school entrance exams. Jim Fox led the Spartans, winning the 167 pound championship over a Marquette opponent.

Sayers scores another point on the way to an undefeated season.

The Spartans closed their dual meet season with a victory over Elmhurst College. Bruce Sayers and Jim Fox scored pins for the Spartans in the onesided match. This was the last meet for Captain Denny Weise and Bruce Sayers, senior members of a team which lost only one dual match in the last two years. Sayers remained undefeated for the second consecutive year, having defeated many of the top grapplers in the Midwest.

Dave Sage, Bob Johnston, Ted Littler, Ed Hanke, Les Besser, Pete Boyd, Brian Maxson, Digbie Willard.

Cross Country

Dubuque began the 1960 Cross Country season by winning their seventh straight conference dual race with a 20-36 decision over a strong Simpson team. The Spartans counted an eighth victory with the conquest over the Luther Norsemen.

Cornell College finally ended Dubuque's two year winning streak when they nipped the Spartans 29-26.

Parsons College became the Spartan's third conference victim in 1960 when they were defeated 25-30.

The Harriers finished their conference season undefeated with impressive wins over Winona State and Wartburg.

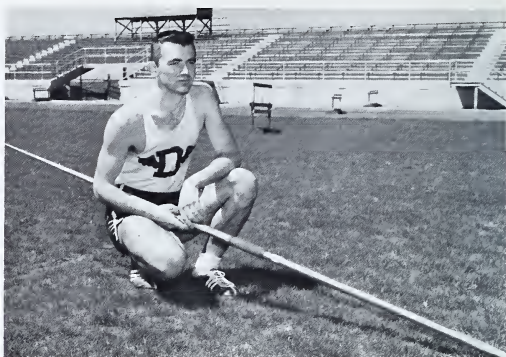

The leading runners for the team all year were Pete Boyd and Bob Johnston. They finished very near the top in every meet of the season. Dave Sage and Ted Littler also consistently placed high on the list of finishers.

Dave Sage and Tex Johnston lead the packed group out of the gate at the Simpson meet.

The "Mutt and Jeff" combination of Bob Johnston and Pete Boyd makes Dubuque the class of the conference in the distance races.

Juris Terauds broke the Iowa Conference and the University javelin record with a 215' 8" throw to place fourth in the nation among small college contestants.

A controversial disqualification on the last event of the Iowa Conference track meet marred an almost perfect season turned in by the University Cindermen, giving Luther the conference crown by the smallest margin possible, 1/14 of a point.

From the start of the season when they romped over Coe College in a dual meet until the last event of the conference, the Spartans turned in an almost constant string of victories.

The Spartan track team was undefeated in dual meet competition. They also won top honors at the Cornell and Iowa Conference Relays and captured first place at the Annual Elmhurst Relays where they topped eighteen small college track teams.

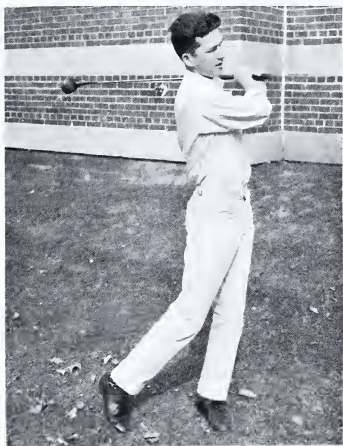

Conference champions were: Juris Terauds, javelin; Pete Boyd, mile; Bob Johnston, two mile, Russ Spearman, low hurdles; and Blair Bowling, 440 yard run.

The 1961 Spartans were in the running again for the eighth conference title in the last eleven seasons.

Golf

Spartan golfers, guided by Coach Carver, prepared to brighten the team's dismal record of the past two years.

Heading the nearly all-veteran team was Captain Jeff Podhaski. Bolstering the Spartans' efforts - and hopes - was one of the best crops of Freshmen golfers to arrive on the University of Dubuque campus.

The school year really begins with the faculty banquet. Here the late Dr. Zuker chats with President Couchman and some faculty wives while Mrs. Zuker talks to Dr. Edwards.

For both faculty and students, an exciting event is FRESHMAN DAYS. The industry begins when the first box is taken from the family car to either Severance or Steffens dormitory.

Freshman Days

Incoming Freshmen can hardly wait to get settled. Representing the usual pattern, Jim Castle's family helps him make his bed - he'll soon have to make it alone - and Sandy Davidson's father aids her in arranging her closet.

As soon as the moms and dads are gone, however, everyone finds the Oak Room an excellent place to gather. Of course, all unpacking has not been completed, but the Oak Room is a friendly place to go - and it remains so during the year (even when studies are waiting).

The main event of the first week is the FRESHMAN DAYS' PICNIC at Eagle Point Park. Before the meal, many newcomers enjoy looking over the beautiful Mississippi. The group pictured is watching for boats going through the locks of the dam.

Near the close of the evening, everyone gets together around a campfire and sings to his heart's content - even under the direction of Student Senate President Hank Hector.

By the end of Freshman week, the upperclassmen have arrived. They are everywhere, overflowing the dorms. Returning Canadians even place their flag outdoors telling everyone they're back.

Freshmen are awed when the Sophomores return. These older brothers waste no time in completing the orientation. They continue "recognition" of the Freshmen by selling beanies - so all know who the Freshmen are.

Part of the "recognition" of Freshmen is the TALENT SHOW. The cute little dolls are Kay Brenner, Barbara Kemmerer, Terry Clark, and Arvilla Dixon. The cool cats are Gordon Ray, Andy Francis, and Dave Reemtsma.

It's surprising how fast the time flies. Too soon, it's the day to fill out dozens of forms as a part of registration for the new year.

The official symbol of the beginning year is the OPENING CONVOCATION. The mace of Adrian Van Vliet, the founder of the school, is carried by Seminary Brotherhood President John Peck as he and College Student Senate President Henry Hector lead the academic procession into the assembly.

The culminating activity of the convocation is the passing down of the academic robes. Seniors Donna Jones and Bruce Sayers vest Freshmen Jo Ann Clark and Harold Shelby with the ancient symbols of scholastic endeavor.

After the convocation, students meet the faculty at the first reception of the year. The new Dean of the College, Victor C. Arnold, is especially glad to see the students face to face, many for the first time.

Homecoming

The Freshmen guarded their wood pile from the Sophomores successfully enough to have one of the best traditional Homecoming Bonfires ever.

Homecoming Queen Donna Sue Denton Peck very happily receives her crown and then sits in the royal chair to watch the entertainment at half time.

HOMEcoming is a big weekend for everyone. Organizations spend hours and hours working on floats to try for first place, this year won by the Athenian Fraternity, who had a tape recording in this clever float.

Fall house cleaning is done for Open House in the dorms, too. Paul Winters shows his room to Carol Weber, Janie Gibbs, and Judy Luke; and Carol Weber entertains Jerry Walters and Kerwin Strasser.

The HOMECOMING DANCE honors Queen Donna and her court. She in turn honors Coach Moco Mercer, traditionally giving him the first slice of Homecoming Cake.

SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER opened the University's drama season in Campus Lane Theater. Presented early in the year, it demonstrated the talents, hard work, and originality both of the students and of the drama director, Dr. Savage. For the first time, the University Players took a production on tour. A week after its Dubuque performance, Goldsmith's comedy was presented at Hamline College in St. Paul, Dr. Savage's undergraduate alma mater.

Two short plays were produced later in the season by senior drama student, Charles Wagner. The double bill consisted of Hans Sach's THE WANDERING SCHOLAR FROM PARADISE and GOOD NIGHT, BABETTE by Austin Dobson.

Faith and Life Week

Dr. Samuel S. George, a former member of the University of Dubuque faculty and administration, led the traditional FAITH AND LIFE WEEK observances. Dr. George is presently pastor of the First Presbyterian Church which serves the campus of Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas. He has previously served on the faculties of various other church-related colleges.

As usual, FAITH AND LIFE WEEK was highlighted by three all-school convocations and several smaller group meetings. However, Dr. George emphasized individual conversations.

Dr. George leads dorm discussions in Severance and Steffens Halls.

Key Queen

A great honor at the University of Dubuque is the title of Key Queen. Chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, talent, poise, and natural beauty, she is the University's representative in the contest for queen of the world-famous Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Ten candidates for Key Queen are carefully selected by the Key staff. An all-school election reduces this number to five, from which the queen is elected.

The Sweetheart Swirl, annually sponsored by the Omicron Mu, honors the Key Queen. She is announced for the first time and crowned at the dance.

Judy Luke, 1960 Key Queen, placed her crown on Barbara Grau of St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. James Batt, publications advisor, acted as master of ceremonies and received the envelope containing the name of the new queen from the Key editor.

The Key Staff was pleased with the school's choice of Barbara Grau as 1961 Key Queen.

Fantasio

The last major production of the year for the University Players was Alfred de Musset's FANTASIO, a Romantic fantasy written in 1834. The play is especially notable for the beauty of its language and for its rare mixture of the comic and the serious.

One of the most interesting features of the production was the fact that the two women's roles were double cast, with Pat Turner and Margaret Fox alternating as the Princess of Bavaria. Sue Blair and Nadine Reiter each brought an individual approach to the role of Governess. Charles Wagner, a senior graduating drama student, well interpreted the rapidly varying moods of the title character, Fantasio. The Italian court of Mantua was humorously represented by Sidney Kruse as the oafish Prince and Ron Luchsinger as Marinoni. The use of a linnebach projector to create the scenery strengthened the play's fairy-tale atmosphere.

FANTASIO was a considerable departure from previous Campus Lane Theatre productions, and it was an educational experience for actor and audience alike.

SCA Carnival

The annual SCA Carnival was a great success in the spring of 1960. Most of the student body and many of the faculty attended.

Money received at the carnival was divided between the World University Service and funds for a new student lounge on the campus. All campus organizations provided booths but receipts were given to the SCA.

A main attraction, as always, was the auction of surprise packages, miscellaneous services (such as a car for the evening of the prom), and the opportunity of a life time to have a faculty or administrative "job for a day".

Darrel Rathje grimaces; Jim Harris is resigned.

Mr. Bailey auctions surprise packages and "jobs for a day".

Many faculty, including the late Dr. Berger, and townspeople as well as students attended.

Firouz Amir Faridi from Iran displays his skill and strength.

Jim Zimmer and Harold Sudmeyer portray American culture.

Senor Casas, his wife, Maty Archundia, and Dan Lopez lead the audience in a lively Spanish song.

International Cafe

The University Society for International Co-operation initiated a new event on the campus with an International Cafe. Here foreign foods were served in a bizarre atmosphere. Entertainment was provided by acts in which members of the society exhibited personal talent, especially indicative of their particular cultural background.

May Fete

Highlighting second semester activities is May Fete, a full weekend of fun celebrating the coming of spring.

In traditional manner, fair maidens initiate the festival by dancing around the May pole, preparing for the crowning of the queen. In 1960, Mrs. Diane Thomas was honored by the title, sharing her reign with Don Carten.

A carnival in the quadrangle continues the celebration, and the Junior Prom closes the weekend.

A Mardi Gras theme provided the background of color and gaiety which even Dr. Coit and Mrs. Bookout enjoyed.

Graduation

Graduation from college is faced with solemnity and pomp. The seniors who have anticipated it most are the ones to discover the ceremony too soon finished.

Baccalaureate and graduation exercises were held the same day in May, 1960. After the long procession into Westminister Presbyterian Church for Baccalaureate, faculty and graduating seniors filed into the University quadrangle.

Only a storm prevented the 1960 graduates of the University of Duquesne, College of Liberal Arts and Theological Seminary, from receiving their diplomas in the traditional setting. 1960 was the first year in many in which graduation was not completed in the beautiful quadrangle of the University campus.

To the right of the door is a brick wall heavily covered in ivy. A small, carved stone face is visible in the brickwork. The title 'Theological Seminary' is printed vertically in a serif font on the right side of the image.

Theological Seminary

Dean of the Seminary

Dean Calvin T. Schnucker came to the seminary in 1942 as professor of Rural Church and Director of Rural Church and Life of the school. To meet the needs of the rural church, Dr. Schnucker established the unique Town and Country Program, a field in which Dubuque Seminary has since become a pioneer.

Confronted by the continuing pressure from the church for more teachers, preachers, and missionaries, Dean Schnucker is called upon to make use of all of his varied abilities, not only as administrator and professor, but as counselor and friend to all students, in order that the seminary might maintain a high level of spiritual and academic discipline while meeting the demands of the growing church. The biggest problem that the seminary now faces is that of expansion, in staff and faculty as well as in the physical plant. Future plans call for the addition of the degree of Master of Theology to the curriculum, the building of a new chapel to house the whole seminary family, and the addition of a new building containing classrooms, a lunch room, and dormitory space.

Registrar

As one of the steps in the continuing expansion of the school, Miss Margaret Saum became registrar of the Seminary in 1958-59, as well as secretary to the Dean. Miss Saum's work is not limited to the duties of the registrar. She also has charge of student admissions procedures, the typing pool, ordering of Seminary supplies, and is liaison between Seminary Student Financing and the University Business Office.

DONALD G. BLOESCH, Associate Professor of Theology, received his B.A. at Elmhurst College, B. D. from Chicago Theological Seminary, and Ph. D. from the University of Chicago. He came to Dubuque in 1957. His academic record also includes post-doctoral work at Oxford University.

WILLIAM JAMISON, Associate Professor of Applied Theology, also serves as Field Education Director. He came in 1955. He holds the B.A. degree from the University of Southern California, an M. S. from Pennsylvania, and D. Ed. from the University of Colorado. The Jamisons have four children.

JOSEPH MIHELIC, Professor of Old Testament Literature and Exegesis, joined the faculty in 1944. He received his undergraduate education at Dubuque, his B. D. from Oberlin School of Theology, and his Ph. D. from University of Chicago. He also has done post-doctoral work in Vienna. The Mihelics are the parents of a son and a daughter.

CHARLES B. MITCHELL, Visiting Professor of Church History, is a new member of the faculty this year. He holds a B. A. from Wesleyan University (Conn.), B. D. from Union Seminary in New York, and Ph. D. from Yale. He has done research at the University of Strasbourg, France.

ORVILLE ROTH, Admissions Counselor and Director of Promotion at the seminary, joined the staff in 1959. He is a graduate of the University of Dubuque, College and Seminary.

LEE UNDERHILL, Visiting Professor of Methodist Studies and Applied Theology, holds an A. B. from Fort Hays Kansas State College, B. D., Drew Theological Seminary and Ph. D. degree from Drew University. Dr. Underhill has special responsibility for counselling and field work supervision of those students who serve Methodist churches. His position is a new one this year, financed jointly by the seminary and the Methodist Church. The Underhills have two children.

C. HOWARD WALLACE, Associate Professor of Biblical Studies, holds the B. A. from Park College, the B. D. from McCormick Seminary, and is completing work toward the Th. D. from the University of Basel. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and their four children came to Dubuque in January 1959.

The purpose of the Seminary Brotherhood is to represent effectively the student body of the seminary in whatever capacity is required and to provide such programs as are necessary to meet the needs of the student body.

The Brotherhood Council attempts to implement this purpose by holding a retreat in the fall, overseeing seminary publications, sponsoring social events and intramural sports, and encouraging benevolence giving to certain specific projects voted upon by the entire brotherhood. The Council entertains an active membership in the Inter-Seminary Movement.

Dr. Paul J. Laube, noted Dubuque surgeon, discussed cancer research during a fall meeting of Parsonettes.

The Parsonettes

The Parsonettes met monthly in an effort to become better acquainted with their future roles as pastor's wives. Topics of interest or controversy served as means to this end through the special lectures, discussion groups, and informal gatherings throughout the year. Early in the year, Circles were formed to provide organized Bible study to supplement individual study and to stimulate spiritual growth.

The second semester began with the Parsonettes and their counterparts from Wartburg Seminary, the "Seminettes", meeting in a joint session. The year was climaxed for the Parsonettes with the annual spring "Wives' Days", a two-day period of worship, study, and fellowship.

New members of Parsonettes gather around the piano in Urbach Lounge.

Publications

The Seminary Brotherhood has responsibility for publishing the SEMINARIAN, which is a twice-yearly journal devoted to news, scholarly articles, and other items of interest to the student body, alumni, and friends of the Seminary.

The above-pictured publications board of the Seminary Brotherhood is responsible for the publication of the seminary section of the KEY and of the SEMINARIAN.

The Seminary Choir

The year 1960-61 was a year of rebuilding, an effort made necessary by graduation and the conflicting intern program. The choir is a voluntary organization, seeking to serve both God and man better through the medium of sacred song. Rehearsing four days a week at noon, the choir periodically contributed to chapel and special worship services and other school functions. During the second semester, area churches welcomed the choir into their sanctuaries for concerts of inspirational and devotional music.

Choir officers: John Folkers, public relations and Bob Reynolds, director.

Quartet: John Kerr, Paul Gabrielson, Ken McCullen, and Jack McCreary.

The Student Pastor: Robert Reynolds

The students of Dubuque Theological Seminary come from a variety of backgrounds, possess a multitude of interests, and participate in many extra-curricular activities. For an example of this range of interest, we follow senior student Bob Reynolds in his round of activities.

As student-pastor of the Frankville and Rossville Presbyterian Churches, he must lead the Sunday worship services and as an ordained elder, assist in the serving of Holy Communion under the direction of his moderator.

Among the many pastoral duties are the unpredictable hospital calls; the regular parish visits finding his flock where and when he can; and the instruction of the youth of his churches in matters of faith, preparatory to confirmation and church membership.

All is not without reward, however, as much of the business is transacted over the inevitable coffee cup! Here, Bob meets with two elders over the traditional cup.

Bob Reynolds is the father of five children, pictured at right with his wife Marjorie. In entering the ministry, Bob left behind 13 years of teaching music in the public schools; his work at Drake University, where he received his B.A. and M.A. in Music Education; and his graduate work at Washington University of St. Louis. Having been 'called' by his present charge to remain after graduation and ordination, Bob sees his greatest challenge in reaching the unchurched and deepening the spiritual life and the lay leadership of his congregations.

On campus, Bob joins his fellows in following the discussion with one of the guest lecturers.

Below left we see him at his original calling, as he rehearses the Dubuque University Symphony Orchestra. He is also director of the Seminary choir and gives private instrumental and vocal lessons on campus.

Attempting to fulfill his student role in the new Smith Hall Lounge, Bob finds the presence of George Mason and Don Neely not quite conducive to maximum concentration!

The School Year

Activities began with the two-day retreat at McGregor, Iowa. Discussion, study, and worship centered around the theme: "Unity in Diversity." To the right is part of the 100 students and faculty members who attended, led in worship by Senior Virgil Howard.

In mid-October, prior to the presidential elections, the students and faculty met in Urbach Lounge to discuss the subject: "Roman Catholicism and American Politics." Above is moderator John Peck with Cecil Corbett, Dick Manning, William Tammen, Prof. Wm. Jamison, and Cliff Isaacson.

H. Lee Jacobs, Research Associate at the Institute of Gerontology, University of Iowa, spoke to the practicum class on the ministry to the aged. Discussing his lecture with Dr. Jacobs are Dr. Lee Underhill, Dave Anderson, and Simon L. Simon.

In early November, Dr. Allen O. Miller visited the campus, lecturing twice and meeting with the students at a coffee in Smith Hall recreation room.

With Mr. Lange are students Brad Sheeks, Jerry Groves, and Wm. Harnish.

Discussing the 'foreign' mission field with Mr. Romig is mid-dler student, Vern Maxa.

Frontier Days

Mid-November found the seminary once again visited by Mr. Larry Lange, Field Representative for the Board of National Missions, and Dr. Theodore Romig, Field Representative for the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations.

Throughout the year, men from various church boards, as well as from synods and presbyteries, visit the seminary in order to secure personnel for vacancies in their areas. At the left, junior student George Berg seeks information about the Alaskan situation from Mr. Earl Jackman, Secretary of the Alaskan Sunday School Mission and Mobile Mission.

Senior John Munchoff and Mr. M. DeWitt Safford, of the Synod of the Rockies, examine the Montana area as a possible field of service.

Around The Campus

One of the more popular weekly events was the Wednesday morning coffee-break for students and faculty in Peter's Commons. Professors Carlston, Mihelic, and Mitchell discuss matters light and heavy with students Snodgrass, Peck, Sim'an, Anderson, and Brandjord.

The Commuter's Lounge, in its second year as a haven for the daily traveling students, has also become a place of profundity as well as levity. Engaged in one or the other are Norm Ude, Ben Stadler, Jim Brown, and Marion Horton.

And for others, the Theological Library holds a strange fascination as a kind of 'theological watering-hole' to which most students find themselves drawn prior to term paper deadlines and finals.

Breaking the rule of silence for the sake of mutual edification are Anand Prasad and Bruce Willet.

International Flavor Maintained

Students from five of the eight foreign countries represented in Dubuque Seminary are O. C. Abraham, India; Dagnachew Yilma, Ethiopia; and Paul Moon, Korea. Seated, Henry Ngue, French Cameroun; Anand Prasad, India; Myung Sup Kim, Korea; and Yusuke Hidaka, Japan.

Each Semester begins with the seminary family gathered at the Lord's Supper, held at mid-year in the Westminster Chapel.

The 1961 KEY is the work of many.

Appreciation is extended to the publisher, Artmaster Yearbooks, Incorporated, for special privileges granted, interested advice offered, and patient service given.

But much preparation is made before the publisher is sent any plans. Mould Studio, student and royalty photographer, for its prompt and high quality service is extended much gratitude. Additional photographic assistance from the Dubuque Telegraph Herald is appreciated as well.

Greatest thanks, however, are given to students who labored diligently to assemble information and to create the finished pages. A sincere thank you is offered specifically to Dian Wilson, the Assistant Editor who proved the worth of this new position; Stan Gustas, the Business Manager; and Gerald Johnson, Seminary Editor, as well as to John Cox, who photographed, developed, and printed most of the pictures in the book. Carol Weber, who did all the art work; Rieneke Vander Goot, who worked beyond the call of duty as layout editor; and Charles Wagner, proofreader, are also gratefully thanked.

Acknowledgment is also expressed for administrative and faculty interest. Mrs. Bookout, Severance House Mother, is extended appreciation for her understanding patience during deadlines. Thanks are expressed, too, for help received from the University Publications Committee, especially the help from Dr. Grace Allen Boehner and from Mr. James R. Batt, Publications Advisor.

The KEY staff hopes that this yearbook will provide a lasting memory for students of the University of Dubuque. We also hope that it will influence prospective students. In closing, we extend best regards to the graduates honored in the 1961 KEY.

Sincerely,

Ralph Thompson

Alma Mater

Awake the dormant voice and sing
Th' air is rent and heavens ring,
And echo beats from mount to sea,
Hail! Alma Mater, hail to thee!
With acclam'nt united swell the song
To thee, thou noble, true and strong;
Thy name rolls o'er land and sea,
Hail! Alma Mater, hail to thee!

Thy brow is crowned with heavenly light,
And truth is resting on thy right;
The nations look, and sigh to thee,
Hail! Alma Mater, hail to thee!

Forever live, thou nations guide,
'Cross arid wastes, or swelling tide,
Our prayers to God shall rise for thee,
Hail! Alma Mater, hail to thee!
